

HOW SOLDIER BOY SAW PREST. LINCOLN

Learning Regiment Wasn't Going To the Front T. W. Kennedy Went to Washington.

GETTING INTO WHITE HOUSE

Walked Past Guards to President's Room, Knocked at Door, Answer Came Back, "Walk In."

Hackensack, N. J., Oct. 6.—The death is announced here of Theodore W. Kennedy, who was fond of relating an experience he once had with President Abraham Lincoln.

When the Civil war began, Mr. Kennedy was first sergeant of company B, Thirtieth New York infantry. Upon word reaching New York that his regiment was not to go to the front, young Kennedy started for Washington with a letter of introduction to President Lincoln from Mayor George Odyke.

For 15 days he hung around the White House, but he did not reach the president. On the morning of April 30, 1862, young Kennedy passed the guards, walked to President Lincoln's room and knocked on the door.

"Come in," said the president, who had not yet had his breakfast and was wearing his slippers. Kennedy approached and handed the letter of introduction to Lincoln. The president complimented the young man on his enthusiasm and talked for nearly an hour with him. Then he wrote notes to the secretary of war and Gen. Wadsworth, requesting them to do what they could for the nifty New York youth. "These notes were in the possession of Mr. Kennedy at the time of his death."

Bands will accompany him to the city with several selections before he delivers his address at the Alamo plaza and when he returns to his hotel a two hour program will be given.

GIRL WON AGAINST TRAINED OFFICE HUNTERS

New York, Oct. 6.—One young girl was pitted against 25 trained office hunters—and the girl won.

That is why Miss Mary Smith took care of the business of Elizabeth, N. J., yesterday while the mayor was acting as foreman of the new grand jury, two blocks from the city hall. Mayor Marvalog says she is the best secretary any mayor ever had. When Dr. Marvalog began to look about for a secretary there were 25 volunteers for the $1,600 job. The mayor looked them over and shook his head. "I want a secretary," he said, "who does not have to drink bromides in the morning to clear his head and will not turn the outer office into a smoking parlor for the boys hanging around for favors. I want a secretary who will work and not play politics."

PEOPLE WANTING AIRSHIPS SHOULD BE TRAINED

New York, Oct. 6.—Before leaving yesterday for Washington, Wilbur Wright declared that besides making arrangements for the extensive manufacture of aeroplanes in Ohio, he would establish a school for the instruction of aviators. He sees a great future ahead for flying machines, both for pleasure and practical use, but he does not believe that any one should be permitted to operate one of them without careful training, and this is one of the reasons why he has hesitated to build machines for enthusiastic novices.

The Wright brothers have received many orders for flying machines, but only a few have been accepted, the inventors believing that the best plan is to supply machines only to those who know how to operate them. While Wilbur Wright was here he received orders from not less than 50 different persons, all of them offering large sums if he would agree to make certain airship flights. Mr. Wright looked upon a flying exhibition for money as a circus feat and he refused to accept any of them. These offers have come from nearly every western city.

Don't think that piles can't be cured. Thousands of obstinate cases have been cured by Doan's Ointment. 50 cents at any drug store.

NEW GOLD CAMP DRAWS ATTENTION

Larder Lake Diggings Attracting Argonauts and Railway Building.

A STORY OF WORLD MAKING.

Geological Theory Is That Gold Bearing Lava Was Stopped by Huge Granite Wall.

(Special Correspondence.)

Larder Lake, Ontario, Oct. 1.—It is the new gold camp here which now is calling the Argonauts by thousands, so many that a branch line is to be built by the Tomeskamming & Northern Ontario railway, which takes traffic from the Grand Trunk railway system at North Bay some 200 miles north of Toronto. The people are clamoring for the railway and pending its completion as many as possible are trying to get into camp before the winter sets in.

"The one everlasting gold field," the habitants call this country. Men who have placed their faith in men who have bet their money on Larder Lake say that in the great slide south from "somewhere," golden lava, tons of it, ran head first into a granite wall and stopped there. Whether the legend is true or not no gold is found south of the wall, no silver north. Other minerals a plenty consort with both gold and silver on each side of the ledge, but the two do not intergrade.

Gaunt and rocky, this rib stands out like a dividing dike. East and west it runs, a mineralized watershed for the heavy deposits of gold and silver, which it divorces, and which are filled with copper, corundum, feldspar, mica, apatite, graphite, zinc, lead, fluorite, barite, permit the mineral crop of this locality to hold its own with the great wheat harvest of the north-west dominion.

The ledge, itself, 35 miles wide, boasts what is estimated as the richest nickel bed on the continent. Some idea of the value may be gleaned from the fact that the big nickel company at Sudbury paid $10,000 for the mere privilege of putting down diamond drill tests of the property, with the option of purchase at $300,000 on the entire bed. After months of drilling the corporation pulled out, carried away its cores and made no hint at all of what had been found. Just what card is up the corporate sleeve is keeping half the camp at Sudbury guessing. The prevalent idea is that the greatest nickel mine yet unearthed is hidden beneath the ledge.

Sudbury, 200 miles from Toronto and north of Lake Huron, is nestled in a country, rough, broken, extremely rocky, and full of deep, cool lakes. The famous camp at Cobalt is still farther to the north. The clay belt, densely timbered, 150 miles by 350 miles in extent, lying beyond the rock-rib like the lean in a flitch of bacon, is a poor man's country. Much of it is easily ploughed, and a team, an axe and perseverance are all that is needed to produce a home.

THRILLING EXPERIENCES

BY SOLOMON F. KIMBALL

THRILLING EXPERIENCES is the title of a new and original work just issued from the press. It is a little book, but it is a book that is needed for our Sunday schools and improvement associations. It contains twelve interesting articles under the following headings:

TWO MIGHTY INFLUENCES.
A CLOSE CALL.
REAPING WILD OATS.
PLUCKED FROM THE BURNING.
A MYSTERIOUS VOICE.
A PRICELESS REWARD.
REMARKABLE MANIFESTATIONS.
ROCKY MOUNTAIN DUSKIES.
OUR PIONEER BOYS.
A HAZARDOUS JOURNEY.
ANTELOPE ISLAND.
BEAR LAKE YARNS.

These articles are not only of a thrilling nature but are filled with the testimonies of "Mormonism." They make their appearance just at a time when the youth of Zion are surrounded by all manner of temptations. The author has already received many soul-inspiring testimonies from leading members of the "Mormon" Church who both speak and write in the most favorable terms of this inspiring little work. It is bound in cloth with gold side and back stamp and contains 127 pages. The paper is of excellent quality, and printed from large new type. Price single copy, post paid, 50 cents.
